We had a near sell out and most of the vendors did show up. Attendance at the door was down to about half of normal. Vendors, both commercial and non-commercial were unanimous in thanking TARC for holding Ham Expo. After the event several vendors said they did okay regarding sales even though the crowd was smaller.

Thanks to all that volunteered. Without the people assisting with set up, taking admission, selling raffle tickets and manning the door, plus the VE's who did testing Ham Expo could not continue to be the success it is.
